

Mutual Storytelling - Justin, 4 years old

"Once upon a time, there was some people that lived in an airplane house. They're flying along, and suddenly they came to this big building, and they didn't want to crash, except an accident, the Dad pushed the wrong button, and made it go down into the lake and they crashed."

Who pushed the wrong button?

"The Dad, he was driving and he pushed the wrong button and it crashed."

"Then there was some people that saw the airplane coming down and then they ran, and the airplane crashed, before they got there, before they ran. And the people didn't get hit."

"There was this wolf who was fighting the people and suddenly the peoples dog came out and started fighting the wolf. And then the wolf was hurt, and then the wolf just went away, and then they were saved."

Who was saved?

"The people who owned the dog. Cause the dog got the wolf."

Where are the people who fell out of the airplane?

"No, not the people that fell out of the airplane. The people who fell out of the airplane are just dead."

Then you're telling me about a dog and a wolf.

"Yeah, and then the wolf attacked the people, and the dog came out and got the wolf. And the wolf went away."